RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Warner Miller Says He Has Made No Deal with Mr. Hanna.

NOT A CANDIDATE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

He Also Declares That He Is Not in the Scheme To Defeat McKinley and That the Ohlo Man Is His Second Choice.

New York, May 16.-Warner Miller gave out the following statement last evening: "I returned from my trip to the Adirondacks this morning, and find that some of Gov. Morton's friends are excited over the fact that some papers have mentioned myself as a candidate for vice-president on the ticket with McKinley, and also that the old discarded story, that I had visited Mr. Hanna and made arrangements with him, has been revived. Ordinarily I would give no attention to a matter of this kind, but under the circumstances I think I may as well end them both at once. To all my friends who have asked my views in regard to being a candidate for vicepresident, I have replied that I was not a candidate and would not be under any possible conditions that might arise. I have not seen Mr. Hanna since June, and I have had no communication direct or indirect with him; in short. Mr. Hanna has not attempted to buy my support for Major McKinley by offering me any postion or other considera-

Not in the Plot Against McKinley.

"I announced myself as supporting Gov. Morton before many of his officious friends did so: I have also been instructed by the state convention to support Gov. Morton's candidacy: I have done so and shall continue to do so, but I want the republicans of the state of New York whom I have the honor, in part, to represent at St. Louis, to understand that I am not taking any part in any canvass which has for its sole object the proposition, 'anything to beat McKinley.' I have looked upon all the candidates heretofore mentioned as in every way competent and worthy to fill the exalted position of president of the United States, and the nomination of any one of them would receive my most cordial endor-ement and support, but from my correspondence and connection with the republicans in the interior of the state I believe that a vast majority of them, after and second to Gov. Morton's candidacy, prefer the nomination of McKinley.

McKinley His Second Choice.

"I shall attempt to carry out the wishes of the republicans of the state of New York, and if the occasion shall ever arise in the convention my second choice will be Major McKinley. I have known Major McKinley for nearly twen't years. I know him to be an honest, straightforward, conscientious and able man; he has had large experlence in public affairs and would no doubt fill the exalted position of president of the United States with credit to himself and honor to his party. As A stated a few days ago in an interview. I have no doubt that the St. Louis convention will adopt a sound money platform without any equivocations or straddles in it, and whoever will be the candidate for president, whether Morton. Allison, Reed or McKinley, he will stand unhesitatingly upon the platform adopted, representing the sentiments and wishes of the republican party of the United States. I am a business man myself and deeply interested in the question of the currency and tariff and shall never give my support at St. Louis to any platform which is not right upon these two questions, nor my support to any candidate regarding whose fidelity to these principles I have the slightest doubt.

"WARNER MILLER."

McKinley Visits Mr. Hanna. Cleveland, May 16 .- Major William McKinley has arrived in this city from his home in Canton and is at the home of Hon. M. A. Hanna. He expressed surprise when informed that a committee from the A. P. A. convention at Washington had arrived at Canton for the purpose of interviewing him. He said that he had not heard of the proposed visit. This evening he will lecture before the general conference of the M. E. church on "George Washington."

Favorable to Indiana Democrate.

Indianapolis, May 16.—The supreme court of Indiana has sustained the apportionment act of 1885, and coming elections must be held under it. This is a decided advantage to the democrats of the state.

Big Loss for Westville, Conn.

New Haven, Conn., May 16,-The works of the Diamond Match company are to be transferred to Chicago on July 1. The concern employs 125 hands here. The old match factory has been in Westville nearly half a century. The wages paid by the company constituted the main revenue of the village.

German Sugar Bill Passed.

Berlin, May 16.—The reichstag, by a vote of 141 to 124, has adopted the sugar bill, with various modifications and a resolution in favor of the early removal of export bounties.

SWIFT OCEAN VOYAGE.

St. Paul Nearly Establishes a New Record Between Southampton and New York.

New York, May 16.—The American line steamer St. Paul, which arrived here last night, broke her own record from Southampton to this port, and imperilled the one made by the proud New York, of the same line, on September 14, 1894. The time of the St. Paul's trip was six days, nine hours and five minutes for 3,112.2 knots-an average of 20.34 knots per hour. The best previous record was that of the New York, which steamer made the passage in six days, seven hours and fourteen minutes, over the shorter course of 3,047 knots, her average speed being 20.15 knots per hour. The best day's run made by the New York was 515 knots and now the St. Faul beats that by making 522 knots up to noon yesterday. The remarkable part of the St. Paul's performance was that she was obliged to run at reduced speed on account of fog for a portion of the last three days. The total time she ran at reduced speed was twelve hours and fourteen minutes. Had the weather been clear there is little doubt that the best previous record would have been eclipsed. Had she come over the shorter route she would have held the record between Southampton and New

POLICE NEWS SUSPENDS.

Formerly & Big Paying Investment of the Late John Stetson. Boston, May 16.-The Police News, which was for many years a source of big revenue for the late John Stetson, jr., but which during his last year was a losing investment has had its last issue. By order of the administrator of the Stetson estate the Police News office closes and the paper suspends. Tonight the Park theatre also closes for the season, and when it opens again it will be under different managementprobably under that of Charles H. Hoyt, the playwright. The Police News at one time made as high as $75,000 a year, so it is said, but of late years it has dropped money, and during the past year it is said to have dropped $10,000. The Boston Job Print, which is owned by the Stetson estate, has no encumbrances and is still making money, so it will not be closed, but will be conducted by Manager Blaisdell till the affairs of the estate are straigtened out.

CAPT. LOTHAIRE'S ACQUITTAL.

The British Vice-Consul Instructed to Lodge an Appeal.

London, May 16.—Replying to a commons last evening the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, George C. Curzon, said that the British vice-consul at Boma had been instructed to lodge an appeal against the acquittal of Capt. Lothaire, the Belgian officer who was recently tried for hanging Stokes, the English trader of the Congo Free State.

THE CUBAN SUBJECT MANY WERE KILLED

Revived in the Senate by Mr. Morgan's Resolution.

DISCUSSED IN THAT BODY TO-DAY

Disposal of the Dupont Case-Strictly Partisan Vote, the Populists with the Democrats-House Rushing Through Pension Bills.

Washington, May 16 .- The principal subject of interest before the senate to-day is the Cuban rosolution, in relation to the American citizens captured on board the Competitor, offered yesterday by Mr. Morgan, and that gentleman will to-day urge its adoption. The claim of Henry A. Dupont to the vacant seat in the senate from the state of Delaware was decided adversely to him yesterday afternoon by a majority of one. The question has been debated at great length from time to time, and that debate was closed yesterday at 5 p. m. The result of all the legal and constitutional argument, for and against, was that the republican senators, to a man, voted in favor of the claim; that the democrats voted just as unanimously against it. and that the populists aligned themselves solidly on the democratic side-making the vote which declared that Mr. Dupont was not entitled to the seat, 31 to 30. A second vote on the resolution resulted in exactly the same figures. There was no attempt on the part of the republicans to postpone the decisive issue. Before consideration of the Dupont case was resumed, the tariff and public debt questions were brought up on the offering of a resolution by Mr. Gallinger, rep., N. H., declaring a revision of the tariff law to be imperatively demanded, and Mr. Gallinger gave notice that he would address the senate on the subject before final adjournment. A bill to prohibit the issuance of government bonds without the authority of congres was made the basis of a long speech by Mr. Bacon, dem., Ga., in support of the bill. He advocated the immediate repeal of the act of 1875, the resumption act, under which the authority to issue bonds is claimed by the president and secretary of the treasury and said that the adjournment of congress without such repeal would be an approval of past and future bond issues ander that act. House of Representatives.

When the house last night took the usual Friday recess 101 private pension question on the subject in the house of \ bills had been passed and thirty-four others were laid aside to await formal engrossment before final action. The contested election case of J. Hampton Hoge vs. Peter J. Otev, from the sixth district of Virginia, was ended by the adoption of the report of the committee on elections No. 3 confirming Otey's title to the seat. Mr. Howard, pop., Ala., made a denial of the stories printed two or three months ago charging him with being drunk on the floor of the house, asserting that he was sick, and that since then he had been near to death's door.

ACCUSES AN UNCLE. Jackson Brings Suit for Damages for Loss of His Wife's Affections.

Providence, R. I., May 16, -Ballou & Tower, counsel for Charles Akerman Jackson, the Boston artist, who summarily took his son Howard from the possession of his wife Thursday afternoon, has issued a writ in which damages were laid at $25,000 and in which George T. Paine, uncle of Jackson, is the defendant, and in which the allegation is alienation of affection. The writ is returnable in June.

Harvard Wins the Gun Shoot.

Princeton, N. J., May 16 -Princeton was defeated in the championship gun shoot yesterday by Harvard, after when the third victory would give them possession of the Intercollegiate traps and with unknown angles. Each man was given thirty shots. The score was as follows: Harvard-Dove, 24; Hardy, 22; Shaw, 25; Kinnicutt, 21; Harris, 20. Total, 112. Princeton-Chichester, 20: Caaning, 22: Kendall, 14; Paine, 22; Farr, 18. Total, 96.

This Man in Luck. Bridgeport, Conn., May 16.-The case of Fred Laundrie, charged with the robbery of Frank Beeman's home in Shelton a few months ago, has been nolled. The accused, while celebrating on the eve of his marriage, stole $18 from Beeman, who is a brother-inlaw of Laundrie's intended. She did not want him prosecuted and is now waiting at the home of his parents in Rondout, N. Y., where a wedding will take place at once.

Northern Texas Swept by a Deadly Cyclone Last Evening.

FAMILIES WIPED

Buildings Torn into Fragments and Hurled Through the Air-The Greatest Destruction and Loss of Life at Sherman-Scores of Injured.

Denison, Tex., May 16.—The city of Sherman was visited by the worst cyclone in the history of northern Texas about 5 o'clock last evening. The path of the destroyer was 150 yards wide. It struck the city at the west end of Post Oak creek and swept in a westerly direction for several blocks and then spread and spent its force. The track of the cyclone is a gruesome sight, the devastation being complete, houses, trees, fences, in fact everything in its pathway was destroyed. The loss of life will probably reach one hundred, with as many more bruised and wounded. The city hall and the storeroom formerly occupied by S. G. Holmes have been turned into temporary hospitals, and already two score bruised, mangled and mutilated bodies have been recovered.

Dead Bodies Strew Its Path. The unidentified dead are being taken to the court house. Grays Hill and Fairview both were badly damaged and the cyclone passed directly west of the North Texas female college, barely missing it. B. B. Sayles, a delivery man, drove down Houston avenue directly after the cyclone. He stated that he saw the bodies of men, women and children lying along the avenue, and many wounded. The devastation in spots where the cyclone was the worst is complete. Trees were stripped of their foliage in some places while in others they were uprooted. Houses, once the pride of the city, are in some instances entirely gone and in others only a pile of rubbish marks the place where they stood. Captain Ely's fine residence was blown to pieces. His wife and two children were at home, but fortunately escaped without serious injury. Not a thing remains to mark the spot where only a few hours before stood the magnificent residence of Captain Burgess. His family was absent from the house at the time.

Fifty Bodies Recovered.

The cyclone was accompanied by an almost deafening roar, and the air was filled with mud and sand. The roaring did not last more than two or three minutes. Fifty dead bodies had been brought into the public buildings up to this morning, and searching parties are out for more. The dead have been found in trees, under leveled houres, and in Post Oak creek. Whole families have been wiped out. An iron bridge over Post Oak creek was twisted into scrap iron.

Nine Victims at Gribble Springs.

Denton, Tex., May 16.-A cyclone struck the town of Gribble Springs, eight miles north of Denton, yesterday afternoon. Four persons were killed and five others so badly wounded that they cannot live. The property damage is great.

Little, If Any, Improvement During the Week Just Closing.

THE SEASON OF WAITING PROLONGED

The Most Favorble Features Reported from Western States-Collections Not Altogether Satisfactory at Some 1 Points-Bank Clearings.

New York, May 16.-Bradstreet's review of the state of trade for the week just closing will, to-day, say: General trade throughout the country remains quiet, wholesale merchants continue conservative, and the distribution of general merchandise is almost of a hand-to-mouth character. South and southwest business remains dull and featureless - unchanged from last week. At larger eastern centres travelers are preparing to start out, but unfavorable features in recent weeks with respect to cotton and woolen and iron and steel industries show no change. Collections in most directions continue unsatisfactory. Concessions have been made in prices of wool, and manufacturers of cotton goods complain that prices are below a parity with the cost of raw material. Tobacco is depressed by trade embarrassments and quotations are weaker except for Havana. Demand for iron and steel is disappointing, and quotations for Bessemer pig have been further shaded. Unseasonable weather has had an unfavorable influence upon clothing and other staples, while labor disturbances at some western cities have checked demand. Request for lumber is smaller than auticipated. and dry weather at the south has emphasized the dullness of last week.

The Favorable Features.

Relatively the most favorable reports as to trade this week come from Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska. Jobbers supplying that region report demand for hardware, shoes, dry goods and notions more active, and that mercantile collections have improved. Recent rains had a big influence on crops in Kansas and Missouri. This has tended to make merchants regard the outloook more favorably and to stimulate purchases. Demand for lake tonnage and canal freights has stimulated trade, and New England boot and shoe factories report prices firmer, with the outlook favoring an advance. Tacoma telegraphs that the Washington wheat crop promises to be the largest on record, and San Francisco that damage to the grape crop by frost has resulted in higher prices for wine. In addition to a better feeling and stronger values for leather and hides, steel rail mills sold two tons of product this year to one ton last year. The fact that fewer vig iron furnaces are turning out as much, if not more, iron this month than last indicates that an unexpectedly large volume of contracts had been placed prior to the late nominal advance in quotations.

Waiting Season in Business Continues.

The recent average weekly commercial death rate is continued, with a total of 265 business failures throughout the United States this week, against 267 last week, 210 in the week one year ago, 186 in the corresponding week of 1894, and as compared with 255 in the like week of May, 1893. More important changes in quotations for staples include advances for nails, cotton and oats, and decreases for pig iron, wool, petroleum, flour, wheat and pork, with steel nominally unchanged or shaded, according to the character of the sale. The prolongation of the waiting season in business is further indicated by the moderate change in the volume of bank clearings compared with last week, the increase being 1.4 per cent., the total for the past six business days throughout the United States being $1,019,000. Compared with the corresponding total in the second week of May, 1895, the decrease is more than 12 per cent., but as compared with the corresponding week of 1594 this week's aggregate shows an in rease of 15 per cent. When contrasted with the like total in 1893 the falling off is nearly 17 per cent., and as compared with the corresponding week in 1892 it is a little more then 17 per

the street to the section of the sec

"No snipe shooting to-morrow, sir." The officer of the life patrol paused with lighted lantern on his arm, his sou'wester buttoned close up to his throat and the peak of his oilskin cap pulled far down over his weatherbeaten face and passed out into the night.

As he opened the door a gust of wind swept the knob from his grasp, dashed the framework against the wall of the chamber and extinguished the flickering oil lamp that made shift to render visible the darkness of the room.

Clarence Baxter hastily fastened the door after the retreating figure, relighted the lamp and sat down on the sea chest which served as a chair and a bed. A strange place it was, this beach-comber's cabin. Timbers from every ship that had come ashore on Coffin beach these 50 years were woven into its heterogeneous framework. Here a part of a steamship's deckhouse, there a stanchion from the sturdy hull of some long-forgotten merchantman, yonder the patched wainscoting of a clipper ship's once gorgeous cabin-cheek-byjewl these relies of departed pride stood like monuments of the dead past in some strange nautical cemetery.

Outside the gale raged with increasing fury. Low though it sat between the sand dunes, the solid walls of the hovel trembled and rocked under the impact of the blast like a ship in a heavy sea. Such a spring storm had not been seen on the coast for years-not since the night (as a veteran told afterward) when the clipper ship Bucephalus came ashore 'way back in the '50s. In the angle over there the prow of this vessel formed a sort of cornerstone for the strange structure, and the horse in the figurehead stared at Baxton with the sightless eyes of an emblem of death. He would have been puzzled to explain this cozy cabin. Baxton was not a superstitious man, nor one given to sentimental vagaries or emotional weaknesses, and yet, as the door swung to after the officer, he felt for a moment a strange and unaccountable thrill-a chilling of the blood-a consciousness of something outside of his sphere of influence, superior to his power of control, that was gradually but surely working its will around and about him. the feeling was not one of fear. What, indeed, was he to be afraid of? Surely not of the storm, for he was cozily housed. Not the thieves or marauders, for he and the coast guardsmen were the only human beings on that strip of beach. Of what, then, was he fearful? It was all nonsense, he said-he was not afraid at all.

Baxton shivered as he threw another piece of driftwood on the fire and drew closer to the green-blue blaze of the copper-stained timber that cast fantastic, many-hued shadows on the rough walls. "No going back to the mainland to-night," he thought, as the picture of the storm-lashed bay rose before his mind, and he silently objurgated the secretary of the treasury who had promulgated the order for bidding the life-saving men to entertain guests in their cozy stations newspapers, the officer had said, with which he might, perhaps, while away an livid stare and blazing eye, he points hour. He lifted the lid. Yes-so it was-prints running back for maux years, tied up and labeled in a cramped handwriting-that of Calamity Dick's, probably, the fisherman who, until his death last year, had occupied this cabin since no man remembered when. Turaing them over, Baxton saw that the packets contained chippings descriptive of the wrecks on this same stretch of sand, called Coffin beach-"Cemetery beach would be better," Baxton thought, as he surveyed the yellow bundles. "Bark Excelsior, June, 1842," read one; "30 drowned, two saved;" "Ship Andromache, January, 1843, 28 drowned, none saved," read another "Ship Harold," 16 drowned, four saved; "Clipper Vanguard, 86 drowned, 15 saved," and so on through a pile of packages that reached knee high as he laid them on the floor. Near the bottom was a larger bundle labeled "Clipper Bucephalus, Marca, 1856, 122 drowned, four saved." Where had he heard of that ship? "Bucephalus-Bucephalus," he repeated reflectively, to himself. "Oh, yes, the ship the old figurehead came from," and he began to untie the dusty package.

But slowly it came back to him that he had heard the name before he came to Coffin beach. "Where?" As he asked. the question a newspaper, bearing the date 1856, lay spread before him, and his eyes rested on the headlines: "Clipper Ship Bucephalus, Liverpool to New York, Ashore on Coffin Beach, April 26. The ill-fated vessel, which was owned by H. B. Baxton & Co., - Front street, this city, missed its reckoning and ran ashore on Coffin beach at three o'clock on the morning of Tuesday last and became a total wreck. The life-saving crew at this place, one of the most dangerous points on the coast, is not on duty at this season of the year. At ten o'clock on the following morning, before anything could be done to rescue the crew and passengers, the chip went to pieces in the terrific surf that was running. Of the ship's company, 82 steerage passengers, six cabin passengers and 34 of the crew were drowned. The second mate, Mr. Lalor, and three sailors came ashore alive on pieces of wreckage-the sole survivors of the disaster. The captain, W. B. Wilkins, perished with his ship. Mr. Lalor, who was seen by a correspondent of this paper yesterday, states that the vessel's loss was due to the fact that her owner had neglected to provide a proper chronometer, although repeatedly warned of the peril run by the lack of this essential instrument. Mr. Baxton is noted among metropol itan merchants for his great wealth and extreme parsimony. It is said that the matter will be laid before the authorities, in order that the cause of tha wreck may be thoroughly sifted, and the blame for this terrible sacrifice of innocent lives placed where it belongs."

In pencil across the margin of the elipping was scrawled in Columity Dick's cramped script: "And 30 of 'em wimin, and Lalor says the captain died a cussin' the owner as the seas swept them pore folks offen the deck into the Baxton stared at the paper before him. M. God! he had heard of the Bucephalus before.

True, he was not born until years after this terrible event, yet the memory of it had poisoned all of his mother's remaining days, "Baxter, the Duce-phalus Murderer," he had heard somebody say in his father's lifetime, but until to-night he never knew the meaning of the words. And here, on the very scene of the horror, the son of its author was domiciled under the cabin walls of that long-lost ship. Yonder its figurehead mocked him with staring eyes!

"The hull is breaking up!" It is no longer the fisherman's house, but the cabin of a sinking ship. See how the timbers strain and wrench as the keel pounds on the remorseless sand; hear how the waves thunder on the deck above, as though to crush the trembling fabric; listen to the creaking of the overstrained timbers! The water is slowly rising yonder, where the cabin floor is lowest. Who are these that crowd down the companionway-women scantily clad-terror in their eyes, their hands bleeding, their naked feet raw from contact with the cruel ropes? One is an aged gentlewoman who leans feebly on the shoulders of a young man -her gray hair streams over her brow, her dim eyes look with a mother's tender love on her son's resolute young face. All these poor creatures are chilled with exposure, weak with suffering. Two of the women lead, another carries a child. "Better to drown here," says one, bitterly, "than to freeze to death on deck." (Baxton does not hear these words, but he sees the why he felt so strangely, left alone in lips move and knows what they are saying.) Then the little group huddles close together in the gloom, the mothers gather their children to their breasts, and one, an ancient gentlewoman, prays silently, as she locks hands with the stripling. "I pray Thee, O Father, if it be Thy will, take me and spare him." * * * Now the pale lips of the woman are still, her head sinks on her breast and the son rises with a terrible cry-(Baxton cannot hear that cry, but he sees the man's awful eyes and knows what he says). "My mother is dead!" Then the waves pound harder on the deck, the timbers shrink and creak and groan, the fabric lifts and falls with dull, terrible thuds-it is high tidethe ship is breaking up. Although it is day, the cabin grows darker and darker. The water rises higher. Baxton must save himself. He staggers across the heaving floor where mother and son lie dead in each other's arms, reaches the companionway, gains the deck-and then, before him, over the shattered bulwarks, to which clings half a hundred miserable, drowning creatures, looms a great towering wall of green water. Lashed to the mizzen shrouds, the captain, trumpet in hand, sees not the coming avalanche-his glance rests only on the face that is emerging from the companiouway-Baxton's face. Casting off the rope that holds him to this place of safety, with straight at Baxton.

"See, see," he cries, "the murderer Baxton! Curses on you-curses on you -curses!" In a second it was over. The monstrous hill of water, the double v ave that marks the flood-ride, strikes the shattered ship a full, fair blow, mounts as high as the yardarm, clear over the decks, shatters the weakened hull to fragments and bears down mast and bowsprit in one common ruin, amid an awful grinding and crushing and a splintering of timbers. Then rises a great shrick that pierces to heaven over the tumult of the sea (Bayton cannot hear that shriek, but he feels it), followed by the boiling seethe of watersand the wave passes on, leaving naught to tell the fate of the Bucephalus save a few scattered spars, a few battered corpses (ghastly playthings of the tide) and-that is all.

"A strange accident happened at Coffin Beach on Friday last. Clarence Baxton, a well-known New Yorker, went down on Thursday for a bit of snipe shooting, expecting to return that night. Prevented from doing so by the storm, he sought refuge in a fisherman's cabin on the beach, where the life patrol left him at 10 o'clock in the evening, comfortably housed and provided with light and fuel. The tide rose to an extraordinary height during the right, so much so that the flood wave (as the last wave of the high tide is called) swept clear over the sand dunes that line the beach, overwhelmed the cabin and swept it out to sea, carrying with it the unfortunate gentleman; whose body was east up on the shore by the returning tide next morning. Not a vestige of the cabin remained, save the figurehead of a ship, which formed part of the structure. It is curious to note that the succeeding ebb tide, which was an extranely low one, exposed upon the beach the hull of a large ship, supposed to be the remains of the elipper Bucephalus, which was wrecked on the sands some forty years ago. The deceased was the son of the late H. B. Baxton, a prominent merchant of this city."-

-Bigotry has no head and cannot think; no heart, and cannot feel. When she moves, it is in wrath; when she pauses, it is amid ruin; her prayers are curses-her god is a demon-her communion is death-her vengeance is eternity--her decalogue written in the blood of her victims; and if she stops a moment in her infernal flight, it is upon a kindred rock, to whet her vulture fang for a more sanguinary desolation.-Daniel O'Connell.

The Liberty Bicycle is a Good Wheel.

It is better than the best.

I is a wheel that hasn't cost any of our numerous customers one cent for rep. irs neither last season nor this.

It is a wheel that is always ready for the rider.

What is more vexatious than to have to send your wheel to the factory to repair damages and wait a week or two just when you want to use it the mest.

Buy a Liberty and we will guerantee not to keep you waiting over an hour at the most, in the event of demage, but send you on our way rejolding with your wheel as good as new. This has been he errerice of all Liberty riders, both fast season and this.

Tuese are facts worthy of consideration. It is a wheel which we sell on its merits, and under our own per sonal guarantee. We are practical mechanics, and what little repair Warper Miller announces that he has not been dickering with the Mc-Kinley managers for second place on the ticket, and will be true to Morton at St. Louis Mr. Miller means to fall inside the breastworks this time.

Wyoming Republicans declared, yesterday, for free silver and instructed their delegates for McKirley. The fee sive ites of the fr West seem to have no doubt of Me-Kinley's currency views and accept him without question.

The Democratic State Committee. which met in New York, yesterday, was polled by the Herald on the currency question. Every member was in favor of the gold standard; five favored a bolt if the free silverites controlled the National Convention, fourteen were against a bolt and twelve were undecided, Tom Bradley resents the imputation that Ben Cdell has pulled him back into the Morton column. In a letter to a Canton, O, man, which has been published, he says that Platt ordered Odell home to whip him into line, but he kept out of Odeli's way for three days that the Congresman might learn the sentiment of the Republicans of the district and then he invited Odell to dine with him in Newburgh. The invitation was accepted, but Odell said nothing about pulling anyone into line for Morton, which Col. Bradley assumes means that Odell knew better than make an issue with him because he "had roused the hearts of the people for McKinley, '

Colorado's delegates go to the Republican convention instructed to act according to the views of Senator Teller, who not long sinca appounced in the Sens e that if the Republicans did not nominate a free silver candidate on a free silver platform he would bolt. It is not likely, however, that Mr. Teller will lead his men out of the convention. He will probably accept McKinley as a good enough silver man and will be con tent with a straddle platform, which will leave the way open for persistent agitation of the disturbing and perniclous currency question within party lines, where the Senator's poware for making mischief are infinitely i greater than they would be if he posed as an independent or allied himself with the Pepulists.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has sustained the appeal of the Lunacy Commissioners from the mandamus issued by Justice MacLean, on the application of New York's Commissioners of Charities, directing the Superintendent of the Manhattan State Hospital to receive Insane patients not provided with new clothing. T e Appellate Court holds that the regulation requiring new clothing to be furnished is a reasonable one, and that the Lunacy Commission has the right to make and enforce it. The decision is an important one, and if sustained by the Court of Appeals will save the State a large sum of money, for if New York city had succeeded in hav i g the new clothing requirement set aside it could not have been enforced against other counties.

The friends of Congressmen Ode 1 assert most emphatically that before it was arranged that Tom Bradley should be one of the delegates to St. Louis, Mr. Bradley gave Mr. O iell to understand that he was for Morton first, last and all the time. This is prebably true or Mr. Odell, who had the convention thoroughly under his control, would have passed resolutions instructing himself and his colleague to support Morton. But whether Col. Bradley was bound by ante convention pledges or not, he was bound to Mr. Otell by ties of personal and political friendship, and it was wanton cruelty to betray his friend at the time and in the manner that he did. His defection punctured the windbag of Olel's gubernatorial ambitions so effictually that it vanished instantly in the thinnest of thin air and there isn't a party heeler in the State who now believes that Olill has any more chance of being nominated for Governor than has 'Biff" Ellison, of Bing Sing prison.

THE TEXAS CYCLONE.

Millions of Property Bestroyed and at Least 200 Lives Lost BY UNITED PRESS.

DENISON, May 16 - Yesterday's cyclone seems to have been confined to Grayson and Denton counties. It traveled at least a hundred miles and destroyed millions of property. The death list is growing rapidly, and conservative actimates here place the number of kille 1 at 200.

Iweive persone are reported killed near Howe. The force of the storm seems to have been spent at Red River. Many places are out off from telephone and telegraph communication, and it is feared the fuller details will reveal greater loss of life and property

THE ANATOMY OF CONVICTION-From the New York Sun

An esteemed correspondent in Orange, puzz ed by the contradictory utterances of Major McK nley on the financial question, and unable to find anywhere in the M jor's speeches any evidence of definite convictions on the subject, asks us to tell h m where the Major really stands.

We do not know. Nobody knows. Major McKinley himself does not know.

To stand anywhere requires something more than two legs and two feet; or one leg and a cane or crutch; or a fence to lean against. It requires also a backbone and the Napoleon of Canton, Ohio, has about as much backbone as a chocolate eclair.

THE PARADA AND SPIELKARTENFEST

l'he Last Cerformance to Be Civen To. night-Don't Miss It for It is Worth Seeing.The Tie in the Game of Living Walst to Be Played Bff-Notes,

Tee last performance of the Parada and Spielkartenfest for the benefit or Thrall Hospital will be given tonight, and all who have not seen this beautiful and interesting entertainment should make a point of being present. It is without doubt the finest affair of the kind ever given in this ciry. It is perfect in conception and detail, and even the most carping critic would find it far from easy to suggest any respect in which it could be improved.

List night's performance was attended by a large audience, nearly every seat having been occupied. The dances were all given in perfect style, and are a distinct improvement over those of the first nights, and even then they were most admirably done.

The dance of the Flowers and Bees was given, last night, for the first time at an evening performance, and was heartily applauded.

The game of living whist was, as on former nights, one of the most interesting events of the evening. Mr Fred Rogers was trump, and his dance with the Court Jester brought down the house. The hands were very evenly distributed and were played for all they were worth by each of the players. Fortune, however, favored Messrs. Fellows and Merritt, and they won the game by a score of 7 to 6.

The score is now a tie, Messre. Buckley and Jordan and Messrs. Fellows and Merritt each having won two games. The tie will be played off, tc-nignt, and great interest is felt in the result of the match. To-night's game will be "for blood" and each andevery player will play for all his cards are worth.

Miss Lila A Stewart, under whose direction the Parada is given and to whose ability as an organizer and skill as an instructor the wonderful success of the entertainment is so largely due, was called out, last night, after the dances and presented with a beautiful bouquet. Too much praise cannot be given Miss Stewart for the thorough and efficient work she has done in connection with the Parada, and it is a pleasure to be able to say that her services are recognized and appreciated by all. The palm to be given the lady in the Gondolier dance who received the most votes was won by Mis: Nettie Beakes. Her vote was 66.

The handsome cut glass vase for which chances were sold at the Fancy booth fell to the lot of Mrs. O. L.

-There are a few good seats left for co-night, but the chart shows that a large audience is assured.

-The accounts have not yet been made up, but it is known that a handsome sum will be realized for the hospital.

-The ladies of the Flower booth desire us to make public their ac knowledgements to Belding for cut

-One of the managers, who is a pretty close figurer, has estimated that the gross receipts of the Parada will not fall short of $1,600, nor are they likely to exceed $1 800

-Voting on the large palm at the flower booth will close at 11 o'clock, to-night. It is a beautiful plant, worth seve al dollars, and some one will get it for ten cents.

-The Hospital managers desire through the Arous to tender their acknowledgments to the officials of the O. and W. Railway Co. for the American flag which was presented by the company and will be drawn for to night.

Results Tell the Stort.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. "A VERY SLICK AKTICLE,"

"Efectric Bill" from No Business in This City-Took $100 Out of Walton,

"Electric Bill." the fakir to whom Goshen people "gave" $90, Thursd 3 evening, did not attempt to do any business in this city, but after reading the first class notice given him and his methods in last night's Argus, moved on to fresher pastures.

The fellow was in Walton, Tuesday evening, and the generous people of that unsophiscated village "gave" him close on to $100, which he put into his pooket, walked to his hotel and treated the crowd to cigars. In their eagerness to get some of the money which they thought the fakir was fooling away, eight or ten people 'gave" him $5, $6 and $7 apiece. The fakir said that $75 was a fair night's work, and that he had made as high as $5,000 in three months. He said he never had any trouble, for men were ashamed to own that they had given him their money and they never made complaints against bim. He was tired of the business though, and hoped to make enough this year to enable him to give it up.

DISTURBED BY HOODLUMS.

Gangs of Boys Who Annoy Residents of the North End.

Residents of the North End complain that they have been much annoyed of late by gange of young hoodiums, who go about the streets at night stoning houses, shouting and yelling and making nulsances of themselves generally. The police can do little or nothing with these youthful disturbers of the peace for they keep their eyes open for the coming of a bluccoat and disappear almost instantly if an officer appears. Some citizens have taken the law into their bands and cuffed some of the hoodlums, whom they have caught, but this summary treatment does not suppress the nuisance. Special officers in citizens' clothes ought torbe detailed to lock after these hoodlums, for if a few members of the gang were arrested and punished, their companions would take warning and behave themselves

Collided With a Yellow Dog.

An out of town bicyclist, who refused to give his name, collided with a yellow dog while scorching down a hill in the southern part of the city, last evening. The dog did not seem to be any worse for the accident, but the wheel was badly broken and the bleyelist got a hard fall, and his face was slightly cut and badly bruised.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was it supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and, by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred doilars for any case it falls to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress.

LETITIA TYLER SEMPLE. the Is Now an Inmate of the Louise

Home at Washington. Of the living children of presidents of the United States Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, daughter of President John Tyler, is the oldest. She is now in the Louise home, Washington, which was founded by W. W. Coreoran for just such women as she. Mrs Semple was born in 1822, soon after the white house was built. She was lady of the white house in the '40s and has grown old with the executive mansion. She is as good to look at in her ripe age as is the old white house itself. She has kept in touch with the times, and talks about the Cuban question and the silver difficulty as well as she talks upon the annexation of Texas and the questions of President Tyler's day.

The daughter of President Tyler was very young when she became the mistress of the white house upon the death of Mrs. Tyler. She was not 22 years old and she had been only four years married to James A. Semple. The portrait of her, by Healy, which was painted' during her father's administration. shows an attractive and graceful young woman. Her recollections of the administration, of the simplicity of the home life, her long daily drives with her father over a part of the country that is, filled with residences now and of the president's delight in her Scotch songs. are very interesting.

Mrs. Semple was a heroine during the civil war. The first hospital in the confederate states was established by her, and she set the example which was followed by many of the ladies belonging to the best families in the south who left their homes and went into the hospitals to nurse the wounded. Mrs. Semple was one of the sufferers from the civil war and her beautiful old home: was destroyed.

After the peace this daughter of President Tyler established a school in Baitimore under the title of the "Eclectic institute." She is proud of the success of some of her pupils, among whom she counts Mollie Elliott Sewall, the wellknown writer and dramatist.

Mrs. Semple is the last survivor of the children of President Tyler, having outlived six brothers and sisters.

COL. MARTIN'S RECORD.

The St. Louis Man Who Will Run the Democratic National Convention.

Col. John I. Martin, who will fill the important function of sergeant-at-arms of the democratic national convention, is a St. Louis lawyer who is widely known in Missouri. He was born in St. Louis in 1848, and early in life was of material assistance to his parents, who were in straitened circumstances. He was a driver of a levee dray when he went into politics and was elected to the Missouri legislature. At that time he was the youngest man ever elected to the Missouri assembly. Col. Martin then read law in the office of Col. Robert S. McDonald, one of the leading lawyers in St. Louis, and for many years has been known for his ability in criminal cases. He has great power with a jury. It was he who defended Maxwell in the famous nairder case, and, while the jury concernmed the defendant, they afterward admitted that if they had a second vote they would have acquitted hem. Cot. Martin has been prominent in friternal and benevolent erders, such as the odd fellows, A. O. U. W. knights of honor, and other great eignmentions. As colonel of the Sixth regiment, S. K. A., O. U. W., he did much to improve the proficiency of that regiment. He was captain of the Shaw Guards, M. N. G., and won for his comanny much of its reputation. He is a whole-souled, generous, genial man, ery popular in St. Louis and throughout the state

LARGE LEATHER BELT.

Mammoth Strap Made in Chicago for a New Orleans Concern.

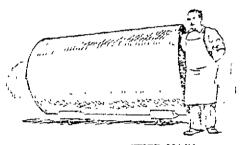

It is Seven Feet Wide, One Hundred and Fifty Feet Long and Weighs Thirty-Three Hundred Pounds-No. Stuches or Rivets.

"Talking about there being nothing like leather," said Vice President Malony, of the Chicago Belting Company, to a Chicago Post reporter, "how is this for being something like it?"

This was a huge roll of leather several yards in circumference, standing on end high enough to test an ordinary man's reach to touch the top. The sides of the big leather cylinder were built up in square sections resembling brown steel plates in the hulk of an ironelad. One end of the roll stood out from the circle big as a barn door, its extremity shaved down from the three-ply thickness nearly an inch through to the thinness of an ordinary leather strap.

"The largest Left ever constructed." is how the maker of this monster cod describes it. And in view of its formidable proportions, its description might well pass unchallenged. The dimensions of the enormous strap are: Length, 150 feet; width, 7 feet; weight, 5,300 pounds, and thickness, seveneighths of an inch. In its construction the selected portions of 450 oak-tanned hides, picked from over 5,000 skins, have been used. From end to end there is not a stitch or rivet, and the figures necessary to enumerate the ingredients which have been made into glue to hold the roughened sides of the three tiers of hides together, and their quantities, would run away into the millions.

Not the least interesting detail connected with the building of this mammoth strap is the method by which layers of skips have been arranged so that at every point from end to end there is not a spot where at least two solid thicknesses of leather do not cover the spliced section of the third layer. Thus the beginning of the lowest layer is made up in three pieces, 21, 42 and 21 irches wide respectively; above these come two pieces of 42 inches wide each, and the third or topmost layer is made up of three oblongs 28 inches wide. In this manner no two seams fall together, but, on the contrary, every joining is strengthened by two soud thicknesses.

To follow the process of putting togrither this enormous volume of muternal into one supple whole is extremely interesting. From the moment the beg baies of hard, crackly bides are opened in the cellar, where everytung is carefully scrutinized before being cut to allow the tough spinar ridge to fall in the center; the thus set apart fleshed and scource and enrred and inflow-stuned and stretched and dried; again out to a straight edge, the ends scarfed off where overlapping is required. the smooth, finished sucroughened to take glue, until finale, er, able to an exact meety, layer upon layer, with boung gine pasted between; the whole mass then subjected to 22 tons' hydraune pressure-the process i as interesting as anything seen in the mechanical department at the world's fair. The destination of this monster belt is the engine-room of the Louislana Lieetric Light company at New Orleans. When attached to the 2s-foot drivingwheel of the great Aliis-Corliss engive the belt will transmit up to 3.00)horse-power. The wheel alone weigns 85 tons, while the big engine itself will scale up to 500,000 pounds.

To remove the leviathan roll from the finishing room on the top story of the factory was by no means the smallest difficulty in the problem. Special tackle had to be rigged to the freight clevator and the bulky mass lowered on to trucks.

When the belt reaches its destination workmen from the Chicego facto y will be on hand to piece together the rovohened ends, and the biogest belt ever made for actual use will then be ready for service.

Sultan Will Not Ride a Bievele. The latest recruit in the ranks of royal bleyclers is the ameer of Afghantorn. The sultan of Turkey refuses to try the democratic "bike," although his ples cans have been extolling its merits to him or six months. A weekly pilgramage to the mosque, barely a quarter of a mile from the palace, is the sole exercise of the sultan during these distressful days. Even then it is by no ricars certain that his majesty does not travel more in the imagination of his subjects than in fact, for Abdul has adopted the trick that Napoleon III. found to answer so well. He has discovered a n an who looks exactly like him, and who attends most, if not all, of the public functions. The people imagine that they are gazing on the sultan going to his devotion, while in reality Abdul is at home on the Yildiz. If the double should be assassinated on one of these devotional pilgrimages, the Turks would not be shocked at Abdul for shirking his prayers. They would regard it as a miraculous preservation,

About Triends and Relations. It is recorded of Louis Napoleon that, having announced to the emprior of Russia that he was seated on the fbrone of France, and having received from Czar Nicolas a reply addressed not to "Mon frere," as is usual between erowned heads, but "Mon ami," Nopoleon III, remarked; "This is most flattering; we choose our friends; we calcust choose our relations."

SUICIDE AT PINE BUSH.

Warren W. Wheeler Shoots Himself During the Temporary Absence of this wife-lif Regith and Despondency the

The village of Pine Bush was thrown into a state of excitement, this morning, when the word was passed from mouth to mouth that Mr. Warren W. Wheeler, one of the best known and most nighty respected citizens of the place had committed suicide. Investigation revealed that the report was only too true.

Mr. Wheeler has been in poor health for the past two years, and of late has developed a tendency to melancholy, and for the past six weeks has been very despondent. His family has been sorely troubled on his account, and feared that he might attempt to end his life and watched him very closely.

This morning about 7:30 o'clock Mrs. Wheeler had occasion to go to a store near her home and left Mr. Wheeler in the kitchen. When she returned she was horror stricken to find her husband lying in a pool of fifteen minute service east and west, blood on the kitchen floor with a builet hole in his temple and a revolver lying by his side.

Mrs. Wheeler's screams aroused the nearest neighbors who found that Mr. Wheeler was dead. He had taken good sim and his death was doubtless instantaneous.

Coroner Decker was notified by telograph and went to Pine Bush on the noon train to hold an inquest. Mr. Wheeler was about sixty years oli and had long been one of the most prominent business men of Pine Bush. He carried on a general mercantile business and for several years was postmaster. His son-inlaw $1 non Vernooy was his business partner for several years.

Mr. Wheeler is survived by his wife, one daughter, Belle, wife of Norman DuB is, of Newburgh, and a son, Frank Wheeler, of Pine Bush. Another daughter, Mrs. Simon Vernooy, died about two years ago.

There is little doubt whatever that Mr. Wheeler was temporarily insane as a result of ill health. There could have been no other cause for his rash act. He was in a position to spend his remaining years in comfort. He had acquired a competency and had a home that was one of the finest in the village.

THE UNIVERSALIST SERVICE.

Rev. Mrs. Libbey to Preach in the Morning and Rev. Thomas O. Marvin to the Evening.

Rev. Thomas O. Marvin, of Boston en! Rev. Mrs. Libber, of Watertown, N. Y, will conduct the Universalist services in the Assembly Rooms, tomorrow. Mis. Libbey will preach the sermon in the morning and Mr. Marvin in the evening.

Mrs. Lipbey is a very forcible speaker and a very successful christien worker.

Mr. Marvio is already well known to many of our Middletowa people, who have methim at Tarpon Springe, Florida, where he spent the winter, and all will be glad of an opportunity to hear him in our city.

The public is cordially invited to attend both services.

Mr, and Mrs. Marvin are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs George Clemson, on Highland avenue. Mrs. Libbey will be the guess of Mrs. E. Mil-

Children Make a Long Journey Mone. Edith L. Breton and her brother, Walter, aged twelve and ten reepectively, arrived in Port Jervis, Thursday night, from Huron, South Dakota. Toey made the journey alone, and were looked after by the conductors along the route, their father, who is a train dispatcher in Huron, having given the children a letter addressed to conductors. The children will make their home with an aunt in Port Jervis.

When your stomach begins to trouble you, it needs help. The helo it needs, is to . igest your food, and, until it gets it, you won't have any peace. Stomach trouble is very distressing, vary obstinate, very dangerous. Many of the most dangeroue diseases begin with simple indigestion. The reason is that indigestion not digestion, not nourishment weakens the system and allows disease perms to attack it. The antidote is Shaker Digestive Cordial, strengthening, acutisning, curative, It cures indigestion and renews strength and health. It does this by strengthening the stomach, by helping it to digest your food. It noutdahes you. Staker Digestive Cordial is made of pure berbs, plants and wine, is perfectly harmless and will certainly cure all genuine stomach trouble. Sold by druggiste, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

BETTER ELECTRIC RAILWAY SER-VICE.

New Time Card-A Fifteen Minute schedule in all Parts of the City all Day and to Goshen in the Afternoon.

As has been previously stated in this paper a new time schedule will Monday, by which a much better better service will be given the pub-

In the morning three cars will be run on the cross town line between Genung street and the north end of the road near the toll gate and cars will pass only at Depotatreer and the band stand, instead of Wickbam avenue depot and the square as heretofore. The care will be run on a fifteen minute schedule. In the afternoon two closed cars will be run on this line and two will be run through from the North Ead to Goshes, giving a fi teen minute schedule to the North E id. The merrygo-round will run as usual in the morning from the State Hospital between the Goshen care, thus giving a and in the afternoon the same car will run through from the State Hospital to Ganuag street and in connection with the two North End cars give Genung street a fifteen minute service.

It will be seen that by this arrangement there is a fifteen minute service in all parts of the city all day and a half hour service to Goshen in the morning and a fifteen minute service to G shen in the afternoon.

FIGHTING FOR BLUESTONE LANDS

John F Kilgour Erjoins the National Bank of Port Jervis and Its Cashler An action involving title to lands worth $200,000 has been brought in the United States Court by John F. Kilgour, the B.uestone King, of Passaic, against William E. Scott and the National Bank of Port Jervis, Mr. Kilgour has also obtained an injunution restraining the defendants from selling his lands and bluestone quarries in Pike county, Pa., and Bullivan and Delaware counties, N. Y., which were advertised for sale May II, at Milford, Pa.

Mr. Kilgour accuses the defendants of securing the control of his immense landed interests in a trust capacity and refusing to comply with their agreement. This action is brought to compel the bank to account for $60,000.

Mrs. Hammond's Will Sustaiced,

The Surrogate of Sullivan county has admitted to probate the will of Mrs. Hannah Hammond, which bequestned large sums to the Methoodist Church and its educational inatitutions. The will was contested by Mrs. Hammond's relatives who alleged lack of testamentary capacity and undue inflaence on the part of her spiritual advisors. The Surrogate holds that these allegations | Oyster, Little neck clams. were not sustained.

Dry Weather and Grasshoppers-Cood Trout Pishing - Damage by Porest Pires-The Rights of Pishing Clubs. Correspondence Angus and Marcuny.

-The like of this drought was never known before at this time of go into effect on the electric road on year. The grass and all other crops are at a standatill. The grasshoppers are as plenty as they were at any time CRAWFORD, 15 West Main street. last summer, although they are not yet full grown. The situation is critical to say the least.

-Trout flabing up here has been very good so far, and taken all in all is much better then last season. The one thing needfal now is a rise in the water of about six inches, as it is as important to have the water right as the weather. The streams are at present to low and the water too clear for trout to bite well.

-Forest fites have done more damage up this way during the past ten days than has been known in the past decade and the end is not yet. The O, and W. Company has made beroic efforts to check these fires where they have been started by its locomotives. While our laws against allowing these fires to get started are probably stringent enough, yet they are seldom enforced.

-For a long time custom has conceded the right to fish at will in all the branches of the Delaware wherever there acreams have been used for the floating of rafts to market, and in consequence they have been looked upon as public waters. The entering wedge has recently been driven, nowever, and the last hope of free fishing was rent in two when a club of city sportsmen located a private fish preserve on the Beaverkill waters, about two miles above the fish batchery. It is high time that the taxpayers of the State arose in their wrath and enquired where they are at, when the State annually expends more than $100,000 a year for the purpose of stocking private Rusticus fish preserves.
